

Session Outline and Discussion Question
“A Man And His Legacy” (Part 1)
 Craig Glass -- Session 26

Session Outline:

Your inheritance is what you receive; your legacy is what you pass on.

Proverbs 13:22: A godly man leaves a legacy for the next generations.

Today it is vitally important that each man decide what legacy he will leave behind. Why?

1. Because it is _____ _ _ _ _.
2. Because if we don't, we will simply _____ _ _ _ _.

Jer. 32:18: You show love to thousands, but bring punishment for the father's sin into the lap of their children after them.

3. Because we need the help _____ _ _ _ _ to build it.

Prov. 27:17: As iron sharpens iron, so one man sharpens another.

Life Implication:

One of the deepest desires in a man's heart is to know that he is significant. That his life matters. Every day of his life a man touches the lives of others- those he works and worships with, his family and relatives, and his neighbors. Most men put little thought into the impression their touch makes. Yet this is what really matters!

The impact a man has with others is the part of him that will truly live beyond him. That's his most significant legacy. Unfortunately, so many of us simply drift through life- our impact being determined primarily by ingrained habits, apathy, or the consequences of sin that we pass on to others.

A man of godly character makes specific choices to ensure that his legacy is a healthy and strong one. He commits himself to taking action, and building relationships, that bring life to those he loves. For that he needs to welcome God's transformation and the community of men into his life.

Session Outline and Discussion Question
“A Man And His Legacy” (Part 1)
 Craig Glass -- Session 26

Session Outline:

Your inheritance is what you receive; your legacy is what you pass on.

Proverbs 13:22: A godly man leaves a legacy for the next generations.

Today it is vitally important that each man decide what legacy he will leave behind. Why?

1. Because it is _____ _ _ _ _.
2. Because if we don't, we will simply _____ _ _ _ _.

Jer. 32:18: You show love to thousands, but bring punishment for the father's sin into the lap of their children after them.

3. Because we need the help _____ _ _ _ _ to build it.

Prov. 27:17: As iron sharpens iron, so one man sharpens another.

Life Implication:

One of the deepest desires in a man's heart is to know that he is significant. That his life matters. Every day of his life a man touches the lives of others- those he works and worships with, his family and relatives, and his neighbors. Most men put little thought into the impression their touch makes. Yet this is what really matters!

The impact a man has with others is the part of him that will truly live beyond him. That's his most significant legacy. Unfortunately, so many of us simply drift through life- our impact being determined primarily by ingrained habits, apathy, or the consequences of sin that we pass on to others.

A man of godly character makes specific choices to ensure that his legacy is a healthy and strong one. He commits himself to taking action, and building relationships, that bring life to those he loves. For that he needs to welcome God's transformation and the community of men into his life.

